Ronald, Ulf, and the Robots

Just Right Reader

Ronald and Ulf have a task. The task is to play robots. The robots must help get a cold glass of milk to a child. But they must hold back the calf! He wants the milk too!

Ronald has a gold robot. Ulf has a robot that looks like a wolf.

Which robot could win?

"Go, bots, go!" said Ronald and Ulf.

Ronald got his gold robot. Ulf got the calf.

Ronald's gold robot went over to the calf. "Go get up on that shelf now, calf!" the gold robot scolds.

"Yelp!" said Ulf as he put the calf up on the shelf.

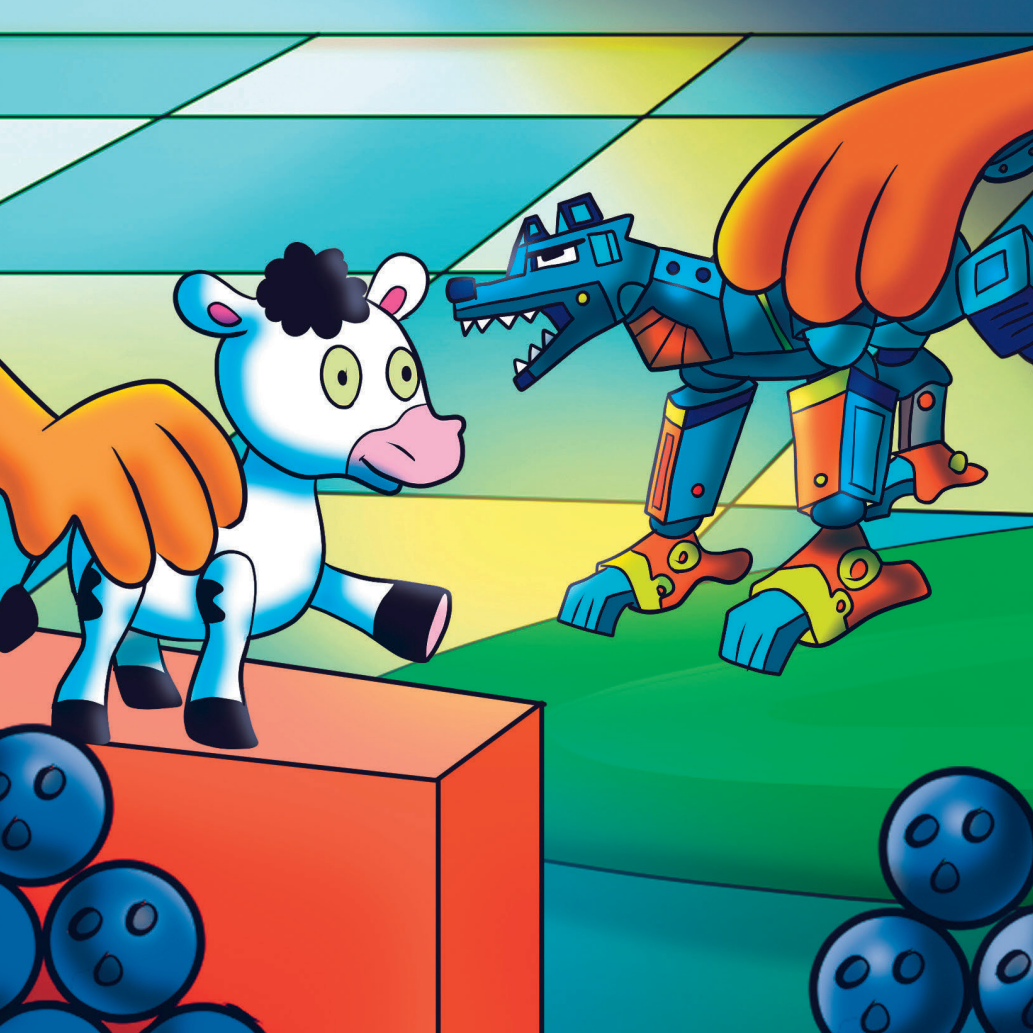
Ronald's gold robot held the calf back from the milk!

"Now, gold-bot! It won't help if you scold me!" says Ulf's calf to Ronald's gold robot.

Ronald gulps.

Now, Ulf's wolf-bot went over to the calf on the shelf.

"Calf, do you like golf?" said Ulf's wolf-bot. "We could play golf if you want! We have many golf balls."

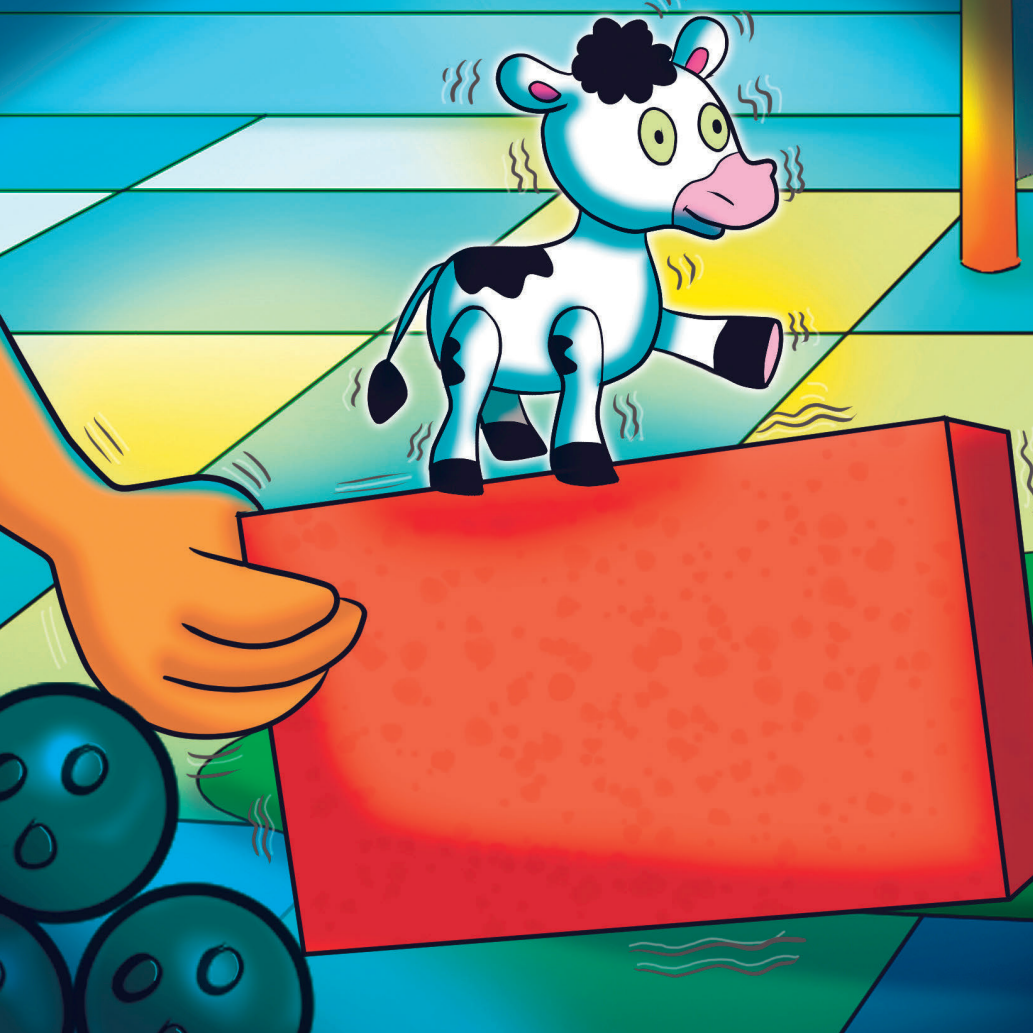


"Yes, yes!" said the calf. "I like golf!"

But the calf could not get down from the shelf!

"I could help!" said Ronald's gold robot.

Ronald's gold robot lifted the shelf. Now the calf could get down!



Ronald's gold-bot and Ulf's wolf-bot could help!

Now the calf could have a cold glass of milk, and the child could have a cold glass of milk.

Gold for both of the robots! "Go, bots, go!"
